Xulon Press, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 226 x 147 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .IT WAS 1982 - the healthiest and happiest year of our fifteen- year-old son, Jonathan, since his first of four brain surgeries nine years before. Bob, Diahann, Jonathan, and I loaded our suitcases into the trunk of our 1978 powder blue Buick and sped off to New York City on a summer vacation. Among the list of stops was the huge, copper-clad lady standing knee deep in the New York Harbor. At first sight, her magnitude was awe-inspiring and indescribable. We rode an elevator upward to the base of her dress and slowly strolled around her perimeter. For reasons known only to God, I took a photograph looking heavenward. The Lady only was in the picture with her right arm stretched up as far as possible, her torch of freedom a beacon of hope for all men. This miraculous picture was never perceived until over a month after Jonathan had passed away on April 16, 1983. The image God branded on the statue s dress was the same we had observed thousands of times since 1973. It was Jonathan s face with a blanket covering him. The object missing was the ice pack that had been placed on his forehead to help freeze out his innumerable headaches through the years. What comfort from a loving God, proving that our beloved Jonathan was finally free while his body was sleeping, awaiting his Savior to come and change it to a glorified one.
